Why should I pressure bleed?

The typical method of pumping the brake pedal while a helper opens and closes the bleeder valve can actually damage your master cylinder. By pushing the pedal past the normal travel distance, the master cylinder seals on the piston can be ripped or gouged by rusted or worn areas in the master cylinder bore. Pressure bleeding provides a safe and effective way to remove trapped air and other contaminants from the hydraulic brake system. Most manufactures recommend purging hydraulic brakes annually. The POWER BLEEDER is easy to pressurize and holds enough fluid for a complete system flush.

3-96-0032 Tool, Brake Bleeder Power (Includes 1 5/8 Male Cap)

This kit works with FPX master cylinders. Optional adaptors available. See Power Bleeder Accessories below.

How does the POWER BLEEDER work?

The POWER BLEEDER works just like professional pressure bleeders. A tank containing hydraulic fluid is attached to the hydraulic system via a special adapter; the tank is then pressurized with a few pumps. When one of the bleed valves is opened, old or contaminated fluid is expelled as new fluid from the pressure tank is added.
